DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 9, 7, 14, 16 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Stayton et al. (US Pat. 6,657,578).

In reference to claims 1, 9, 16, 19, Stayton discloses a) the claimed system comprising an anti-hijacking system installed aboard an airplane comprising at least sounding an alarm, which is met by warning of a potential ATC collision threat provided to the pilot or flight crew 540 may be an audible and/or visual warning that provides data pertaining to the ATC aircraft that may be a threat. This data may include, but is not limited to, an estimated closure time of the ATC aircraft and/or a distance to the ATC aircraft (col. 12, lines 21-26), b) the claimed at least one transmitter means comprising a microprocessor and telemetry means to transmit data, and c) the claimed at least receiver means to receive data from the transmitting means, which is met by transceiver 450 for establishing a communications link to receive/transmit networked surveillance information; (v) a control unit for selecting functionality of the respective components (col. 7, lines 27-45).

Art Unit: 2632

In reference to claims 7, 14, 23, Stayton discloses the claimed transmitter means can activate auto flight navigation system, which is met by transceiver 450 is composed of equipment that already present on the aircraft. For example, military aircraft configured to fly in formations often have Station Keeping Equipment (SKE) used for keeping planes in formation position. The SKE used in this type of military aircraft, for example the C-130, communicate positional, range and control information between formation members for functions such as autopilot (col. 9, lines 1-19).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stayton et al.

In reference to claim 18, although Stayton does not specifically disclose the claimed system can be used for cruise ships, boats, trains or buses, it is well known in the art to use location devices such as the one disclosed by Stayton for determining hijacking taking place among any vehicle. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to place the system of Stayton on any commercial vehicle to prevent any hijacking from taking place.

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 1-24 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 19-26 of U.S. Patent No. 6,696,928. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims are substantially the same in that both disclose systems providing a remote control of anti-hijacking aboard an airplane including a transmitter means and receiver means.
